THE COMING OHIO ELECTION.

Republicans in Washington Confident: Democrats Hopeful.

GENERAL GROSVENOR URGES CAUTION.

General Pike's Will Filed for Probate_Sus_ pension of Silver Coinage Recommended Capital Notes in General.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 18 .- [Special.]-There are a great many Ohio politicians in Washington; men of both parties. In fact, of all parties, for even the third or "People's" party has its representatives here who vote in the Buckeye State. In political circles, and that includes all elements of popplation here, the Ohio canvass now inaugurated by the nomination of McKinley and his associates on the Republican ticket, is the only topic of discussion. Republicans assume a very confident air and tone. They boast that the election is already won: that McKinley "will sweep the State by won: that McKinley will sweep the State by an unprecedented majority."

No doubt there are Republicans who sincerely lay this flattering unction to their souls, but they are not among the leaders. The men upon whom will devolve the duty and labor of directing the canvass are already exerting themselves to prevent a feeling of over-confidence. They see that the party has a hard fight ahead of it and that it can only win, if at all, by a narrow margin. General Grosvenor, who resigned one position only after another had been one position only after another had been tendered him, is here to meet the opposition which he knows he must encounter against his going to Europe as a World's Fair commissioner. He, of course, predicts McKinley's election, but says that every inch of ground will be "desperately contested," and that the boundless measures must caution that followed will be "desperately contested," and that the Republican managers must caution their followers against taking victory for granted. He admits that the Republicans count mainly upon Democratic dissensions, but naively added. "That is not a safe calculation. The Democrats have a habit of fighting like blazes before their convention and of working like the d—I for their ticket after it is nominated." He further said that one grave danger confronting his party is that the masses will grow inert because of a conviction based upon superficial observation that the based upon superficial observation that the party is certain to win. Senator Sherman has already begun to caution the Republicans against too much sonfidence. He is more interested in the section of a Republican Legislature than of the State ticket, as he is desirous of remaining in the United States Senate. Foraker is an aspirant for Sherman's seat, and it is preduced by the second of the States Senate. listed that he will make trouble before the

DEMOCRATS HOPEFUL.

The Democrats are not despondent by any means. On the contrary, they are hopeful, d some of the most astute managers of our party in Ohio are among Washington stempo-rary residents. Democrats generally concede that Governor Campbell will be renominated. In the fight for county delegations he has won almost unbroken series of victories, and opposition to him will be chiefly confined Hamilton county. In the opinion of able-morratic leaders the Democracy of Hamil-county, which includes Cincinnati, will into line for Campbell after his nomina-

They cannot afford to do otherwise," says and party men are anxious to get possession of them. We cannot hope to accomplish that unless we fall in line for the State ticket next fall. As Governor Campbell will cer-tainly be nominated there is already a movement on foot, backed by some of his most strengers opponents in Cincinnati, to have the Hamilton county delegation in the convention move to make the nomination

GENERAL PIEC'S WILL,

The will of the late General Albert Pike was filed to day and in it he administers a re-buke to the United States Government which buke to the United States Government which must sting even Uncle Sam. In the United States Treasury is a sum of money amounting to $19.50, the proceeds of the sale of certain property in Little Rock, Ark., belonging to General Pike, which was sold under confiscation proceedings because of the General's service in the Confederate army. He wills this money to the United States "that they may have an honest title thereto, and no longer hold them (the moneys) as the proceeds of plundering under moneys) as the proceeds of plundering under the form of law." The ingratitude of the Federal Government was a sore point with the venerable General who had given so much of his time and ability to his country.

President Harrison, accompanied by Mrs. Harrison, their two grandchildren, Mrs. Dimmick, Mrs. George B. Williams and Miss Ella Warfield, left Washington this morning at 9 o'clock over the Pennsylvania railway for Cape May Point. The cottage there is ready for the party. The President will remain at the seashore until next Tuesday.

GENERAL SCHOFIELD WEDS.

Beautiful Miss Kilbourne, of Keokuk, the Aged Soldier's Bride.

THE EVENT DEVOID OF DISPLAY.

The Commander-in-Chief of the United States Army at Hymen's Altar-The Prominent People Present.

KEORUE, IOWA, June 18 .- The marriage of General John M. Schofield, commander-inchief of the army of the United States, to Miss Georgia Kilbourne, of this city, was solemnized at St. John's Episcopal church here at high noon to-day, the officiating elergyman being R. C. Mellwaine, the rector of the church.

Since the announcement of the General's engagement to the fair daughter of the Hawkeye State, about the first of the present month, nothing else has been the topic of conversation in the social circles of Keokuk. As far as consistent with the high rank of General Schofield and the social prominence of his bride to-day's wedding was devoid of display. The only military features were the appearance of the General and his staff in full appearance of the General and his staff in full uniform. Only the intimate friends and relatives of the contracting parties witnessed the ceremony, which was performed according to the beautiful Episcopal ritual.

A special train bearing the wedding party arrived at the new depot shortly after 8 o'clock this morning and was met by a reception committee and escorted to the Keokuk Hotel amid the waving of flags and bands of music. The city was handsomely decorated for the occasion, the national colors predominating.

Her hands were encased in white gloves and she carried a silver prayer-book. THE CEREMONY.

An Alarming Increase of Brigandage in the Turkisk Empire.

A REPORT ON IMPERIAL FEDERATION.

The Question Seriously Confronting Lord Salisbury-Reception of Jewish Refugees From Russis.

[By Cable to The Times.] London, June 18 .- A dispatch from Constantinople gives an alarming account of the increase of brigandage in various parts of the Turkish emptre. In old Servia a brigand chief named Mihran has established himself in the mountains with about eighty followers and lives in princely fashion on blackmail exacted from the people of the villages. These are glad to pay for the exemption and protection of their property from injury, and for that purpose each householder pays Mihran a sum in proportion to his possessions, the Christians being obliged to pay about double the amount exacted from the Turks. Mihran is said to be a renegade Italian, and he holds his followers in complete discipline. One of them having been shown to have plundered a peasant who had punctually paid the black-mail Mehran had the offender's cars and hands cut off and sent them in a bag to the minured peasant.

Mihran exacts from every one the honors due to the rank of Pasha. The Turkish authorities made a demonstration of attacking the brigands about three months ago, but withdrew their forces without having done anything of consequence. Mihran remained in seclusion for a few days and then suddenly descended on the villages and collected all the amounts that the peasantry had agreed to pay.

RAVAGES OF LOCUSTS.

The most thrilling stories come from Algeria of the ravages of locusts. In many districts not a sprig remains on a farm, and the inhabitants are in a famishing condition. Their only resort for food is the locusts themselves, of which vast quantities are being consumed. The French colonial authorities are taking steps to stay the plague as much as possible by the use of scientific means.

A Shanghal dispatch says that the number of executions in that vicinity has not been paralleled since the Taiping rebellion. All the more active of the mob leaders have fallen into the hands of the government troops and been condemned to death, Yang-Yi, one of the men who wrecked the French Mission, was condemned to be cut to pieces, and the sentence was duly carried out, the executioner having been bribed to make death as prompt and as painless as possible.

RUSSIAN JEWS.

A Berlin dispatch says that Herr Isaacs, who has had charge of the Berlin committee for the reception of the Jewish refugees from Russia, is in favor of sending the larger portion of them to one of the new Western States of America, where there is still a great deal of unoccupied land. He believes that it is a mistake to dump them all in New York, and that many more would follow agriculture if they were not, under the present system, too they were not, under the present system, too easily led to take up some petty line of city business already, perhaps, overcrowded. Herr Isaacs says that the committee have not failed in any meritorious instance to ex-tend needed relief, the money for the purpose cogning, from Vienus, and London as well as Ferlin.

IMPERIAL PEDERATION. LONDON, June 18.—The general feeling among politicians is that Lord Salisbury ought to make a definite statement to-morrow to the deputation on imperial federation. The interest in the report is increasing.

The St. James Gazette. Tory, says that the demand for a conference is reasonable. If there is to be a federation it would be necessary to form a leavue of war or a leavue of comthere is to be a federation it would be necessary to form a league of war or a league of commerce. The former would be the easier to organize. There is no evidence that the colonies are in the least inclined to meet the tariff policy of England. There might be mutual arrangements whereby England would tax the raw materials in the colonies in favor of manufactures. It believes the time has arrived for the Imperial Federation League either to decide to act or vanish.

The Pall Mall Gazette (Liberal) remarks that each of the three self-governing groups among the colonies is in the melting pot. Australia is in the heat of federation. In Canada there is political chaos, intensified by Macdonaid's death. Changes are impending in South Africa. Under these circumstances

VIENNA, June 18.—In the Reichsrath to-day Count Von Taafe, the Austrian Premier, declared that the Ministry of Foreign Affairs had made a careful inquiry into the alleged maltreatment of Austrian subjects (Poles) in Virginia, United States, and that the investigation showed that no foreign workmen had been subjected to ill treatment, as claimed in BERLIN, June 18 .- The German military authorities are extremely active in the work of reinforcing the garrisons in Alsace-Lorraine. One reason for this is said to be the necessity for the detail of a great number of soldiers to act as sentinels along the front to see that the passport law is vigorously enforced. The Emperor is reported to have recently ordered that the regulations in regard to pass-ports be applied with redoubled vigor. Meanwhile it has to be admitted that notwithstanding sentinels and order the Alsacians and the Lorraines continue to hold fast to their love for France. No occasion is lost by them either to evade the laws of their conquerors or to exhibit their hatred and con-tempt for the German officials placed over them. It appears that not less than one-third of the young men of Alsace-Lorraine are now serving in the French army.

Paris, June 18 .- A fatal balloon trip, results ing almost to a certainty in the loss of three lives, occurred at La Villette yesterday after. ncon. A balloon containing a professional aeronaut and two other persons made an ascent about midday from La Villette, the aerial ven-ture being watched by crowds of people. When the balloon had reached a height of not more the balloon had reached a height of not more than sixty feet from the ground the aeronaut, who had been busily engaged about the outside of the car, was seen to suddenly lose his balance, make a desperate effort to regain it and then fell whirling to the earth. He was picked up so terrible injured that it is said there is no prospect of saving his life.

In the meanwhile the balloon and its two remaining occupants, both of whom were utterly ignorant of the manner in which a balloon is handled, mounted up higher and higher into the air, growing to the sight smaller and smaller until it was finally lost sight of entirely among the clouds. The government officials have telegraphed to the prefects in the outlying departments to make all the inquiries possible in regovernment officials have telegraphed to the prefects in the outlying depart-ments to make all the inquiries possible in re-gard to the fate of the two occupants of the balloon, but up to this time nothing has been heard of their whereabouts. Hill City Notes.

Lyncheurs, Va., June 18.—[Special.]—The funeral of the late Mrs. W. H. Wrenn took place to-day from the First Baptist church and it was preached by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Felix. Dr. A. E. Dickinson, of Richmond, came to the city expressly to be present at the funeral, having been long and intimately acquainted with the deceased. The doctor's tribute to her character was touching and beautiful.

Since the incarceration is jail of Harry Tal-bot and Edward Payto, a wrieted of having obtained by false pretense two guns from Mr. S. O. Fisher and made way with them, the It seems that he was at one time confined in unknown.

During the last few days evidence has been received here of other crooked business done by Talbot in other cities, and the authorities are of the opinion that the plea of insanity is a mere subterfuge.

Persons Made Sick By It. At Mr John R. Mountcastle's home, No. 212 east Clay street, Miss Waddey is a guest, and on yesterday that lady received a package of crystalized fruit. It was handed the servant who answered the bell by a mail-carrier, and the postal marks were Richmond. negro servant at once began eating it. When Mrs. Mountcastle came in sh all of them suffering great pain, and Dr. Davis was immediately sent for. He rendered all relief possible, and last evening the sufferers were out of danger and doing well.

The candy was immediately suspected as being the cause of the illness, and upon a close inspection the box containing the fruit was found to be one which at some time held to be contained to be one which at some time held. was found to be one which at some time held carbolic soap. This, however, was stated to be not sufficient for such illness as had mani-fested itself, and poison was then conjectured as being in the candy. The police were notified, and Captain J. B. Angle and Sergeant A. M. Tomlinson im-mediately went to work on the case. They succeeded in getting several valuable clues last evening, and it is very probable that the sender of the candy will be apprehended today.

It is evident that the package was sent out of malice.
